

Sharon Brown – BSL Enabling

I had the absolute pleasure to learn my basic introduction to British Sign Language with Sharon and her colleague Paul – a BSL teacher who is Deaf himself.

Sharon was an inspiring and supportive teacher and her enthusiasm and passion for British Sign Language shone through in every class. She is not only a wonderful teacher, but a hugely dedicated advocate of the Deaf community, striving to ensure that Deaf people are not isolated by bringing sign language to a much larger number of the local hearing community.

I was so motivated by the Basic Introduction to BSL course led by Sharon and Paul, that I have already commenced my Level 1 training.

Sharon takes huge pride in her work with people learning sign language and encouraged us all to engage immediately with members of our community who are Deaf, either through organised meet ups or just through supporting us to try and use our new language skills when meeting Deaf people.

Sharon with BSL Enabling is not just delivering core services to people from the Deaf community who need her help; she is changing lives and ensuring inclusivity within our local community and that in itself deserves huge recognition.
